PARASITE CLEANSE PROGRAM

Human intestinal parasites/worms can cause constipation, stomach bloating, disease and many health problems. Other symptoms include anaemia, asthma, diarrhoea, digestive disorders, fatigue, low immune system, nervousness, skin rash.

There are many different types of parasites/worms living the human body. Some are microscopic in size while others can be seen quite easily. These common organisms can be found everywhere in our environment, in the air we breathe, in the water we drink, or in the food we eat.

Parasite is an organism that lives on or in other organisms from which it obtains nutrients to live and causes harm in the process.

If you have concerns about parasites, or if we identify through your colonic treatment that you have parasite issues, we can assist you in getting back to good health.
